WASHINGTON GOSSIP.

The President Said to Favor the Appointment of a Fort Wayne Man

Who Will be the Lucky One and What Appointment Will Fall to Him Is Not Known.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The appointments of marshal and attorney for Indiana seem to be tied up. The two senators have agreed upon their candidates, but President Cleveland will take his time to consider the matter. The senators confidently expected that the names of Kern and Hawkins would be sent to the senate today. Other candidates have been ignored and the field is still open. Congressman Martin presented the application of Mr. Waugh for district attorney today. Judge Korbly, of Madison, presented his own case for the same place after being introduced by Senator Turpie who said he did not withdraw his indorsement of Mr. Kern. The president was much impressed with Mr. Korbly's case and invited him to call again. It appears that the president is not fully satisfied with the geographical distribution made by the senators of the state patronage, and has intimated that the Fort Wayne district could not be ignored. Yet it is believed that Kern and Hawkins will be appointed.

As for the collectors of internal revenue, they are not settled, except that Senator Voorhees will recommend Jump, of Terre Haute, and that Mr. Holman claims the privilege of naming the collector of the eastern district and that Senator Turpie has not opposed them. However, Mr. Brookshire will make a desperate fight for Hulet against Senator Voorhees' man. If Hawkins is appointed marshal this will not help Jump's chances, as they come from adjoining counties. Then comes Sam Ralston, of Lebanon, with the strong indorsement of business men and prominent politicians. Geographical location is in his favor. Mr. Holman declares that he has not yet determined who he will recommend for collector in the eastern district, although Brackin claims the place. The collectors will not be appointed for some months yet.

Now that Princess Kaiulani and suite have attained the object of their visit to Washington, that of seeing the president, the remainder of their time here will be spent in social affairs and visiting the interesting places about the capital city. Saturday next is the time fixed for their departure. The propositions to send a United States commissioner to the islands and to take a vote of the people are looked upon with favor by Mr. Davies. He said this morning that of the 14,000 voters on the island 10,000 were averse to annexation "and," added Mr. Davies, "I don't see under these circumstances how the United States can take such a step."

The supreme court today denied the application made yesterday by the counsel for Howard Schneffler, sentenced to be hanged next Friday for murder, for leave to file petitions for a writ of habeas corpus and for a writ of error.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Secretary Carlisle yesterday amended the quarantine regulations recently promulgated, so as to provide for the inspection of passengers taken aboard ship at intermediate ports by the United States consular officer at the port, or in his absence, by the local health officer.

The treasury department is advised of the arrest in Boston by special agents of the treasury department, of Charles Febbins, an employe of the Boston and Yarmouth United States steamship line, charged with smuggling sulphonal and phenacine. These drugs were sold to a number of Boston merchants. The arrest is regarded as important and the results are expected to be far reaching.

Secretary Herbert has appointed Louis Finney his private secretary. He will relieve Mr. Raymond, who is now filling this position, about the 15th inst. Mr. Raymond was private secretary of Secretary Tracy.

The treasury department is advised of the arrest at Detroit of Ellmere T. McArthur, an ex-convict, who has been engaged in swindling people in Indiana and Illinois. His plan was to send a printed circular stating that a valuable package from Canada was detained at the Detroit custom house addressed to the party receiving the circular, but was held awaiting the payment of the custom duties, usually from $3 to $5. The circular had the name of the United States collector on the head with O. E. Small as cashier. All parties were directed to return the circular for filing purposes. A large number of people have been victimized by McArthur, and when arrested he had in his possession thirty four letters with remittances in them in postal notes, etc.

Western congressmen who approached the president to urge the claims of the western candidate for the office of commissioner of pensions are authority for the statement that Mr. Cleveland informed them that he had about determined to appoint an eastern man to this position and that office would have gone to General Slocum, of New York, if his advancing years had permitted him to undertake its onerous duties.

TWO SWITCH ENGINEERS

Crash Together During the Progress of a Blizzard.

DULUTH, Minn., March 14.—During a blinding blizzard yesterday two switch engines on the St. Paul and Duluth road collided, [illegible]

Fargo probably fatally. He was crushed about the hips. H. Reiner had a bone broken in his wrist. Andrew Young and Arthur Clark were bruised about the head, Matt Sullivan and Andrew Johnson had their legs crushed.

RIVERS ON A RAMPAGE.

High Waters Doing Great Damage in Michigan.

Homes Surrounded by Water and Buildings Swept Away—The Floods Elsewhere.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 14.—The Kalamazoo river is keeping up its record with the other state rivers and its banks are flooded for half a mile on either side. One hundred houses are surrounded with water and there is a little Venice on the east side. Many small buildings have had to be anchored and some have been swept away. The Howlandsburg dam, which holds back Gull lake, has gone out. At Plainwell the dam has gone out, and the Otsego dam holds back a lake covering 5,000 acres. Great trouble is feared here as the result of the greatly increased volume of water from the heavy rain which fell last night.

The river is still rising and is now at the highest point reached in forty-two years. Scores of factories and mills are shut down, throwing a large number of men out of employment. Over on the west side one hundred houses are surrounded by water. A number of families have moved out in boats and much suffering prevails as the weather has changed and a blizzard is blowing. Confusing reports have been received relative to the condition of the river above here, but the fact remains that the rise is steady and continual here.

GRAND HAVEN, Mich., March 14.—Grand river is rapidly rising and in the ride of forty-eight hours it will reach high water mark. All dock owners are clearing their docks and warehouses. The Detroit, Grand Haven and Milwaukee railroad bridge, between this city and Ferrysburg is being braced and gangs of men are watching it day and night. Word was received last night that a farmhouse near Mortonville was washed away and that the family narrowly escaped with their lives.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., March 14.—A report has been received that the dams at Howlandsville, south of here, and at Plainwell and Otsego to the north, have gone. Thousands of acres of land is inundated and many lives and much property are no doubt lost. The Kalamazoo river was never before known to be so high.

HIGHBINDER'S WAR.

Another Murder is Added to the Long List.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 14.—Another murder was added yesterday to the record of the present highbinder war in Chinatown, which began just a month ago with the raid on a store by men of the Bo Sin Sear society. The numbers now stand four dead and two wounded, and there have been three pitched battles in the public streets between rival bands of cut throats. Yesterday, just before noon, within sight of police headquarters, Buch Chew, a highbinder just imported from Portland, Ore., to take part in the affairs, was shot down by Li Gim, a highbinder of the Suey Sing Tong. When Chew was brought to the receiving hospital nine gaping wounds were found in different parts of his body—three in the back, two in the abdomen and others in the arms and legs. The evidence against Gim is conclusive. The two policemen who captured him will receive the $500 reward offered by the Chinese consul for the arrest of any Chinese murderer.

BLOW OPEN A SAFE.

Burglars Secure $1,200 Worth of Jewelry.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 14.—The jewelry store of S. E. Heard, less than half a block from the public square in this city, was entered by burglars last night. The bottom of the safe was blown out and $1,200 worth of jewelry taken. Entrance was effected in the evening during the absence of the employes. No clue.

Fire Raging in Des Moines, Iowa.

DES MOINES, Ia., March 14.—Fire was raging all last evening at Polk City, fifteen miles north of here, and at midnight was still spreading. The Chicago and Northwestern depot and elevator and much other property has been destroyed. A special train from this city took the Des Moines firemen to Polk City.

Will Go to Hayti.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 14.—It is reported here that Congressman Blount has been appointed chairman of a special commission to Hawaii that is to go to investigate the situation there. Members of Mr. Blount's family are quoted as authority for the statement.

Captain Vanderbilt.

NEW YORK, March 14.—Captain Jacob Vanderbilt's condition has changed a little for the better. His family hope for his recovery.

Lady Mowat Dead.

TORONTO, Ont., March 14.—Lady Mowat, wife of Sir Oliver Mowat, premier of Toronto, died yesterday, aged sixty eight.

MISSING VESSELS.

Nothing Yet Known of the Fate of the Naronic.

The Owners of the Moreshire Fear that She Is Lost—Now Fifty-two Days Over Due.

NEW YORK, March 14.—The steamers Spanish Prince and Moorish Prince arrived this morning from the Mediterranean. Both vessels took a southerly course, and one of them stopped at St. Michaels, in the Azores, sailing from there Feb. 24. Neither saw or heard anything of the Naronic, or saw any wreckage of any kind during the voyage. The steamer Geologe, which arrived from Hamburg, has aboard Captain Meyer and crew of seven men of the bark Sterrus, German, bound from Galveston Feb. 4th for Ayre, Scotland, laden with oil cake. The Sierrus experienced heavy weather, causing her to spring a leak. She was in a sinking condition, bulwarks carried away and decks swept. The Geologe on March 9 launched a boat and with great difficulty rescued the men and brought them to this port.

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 14.—The ship Moreshire laden with raw sugar for Vancouver, which left Java October 22 last, is still due. Nothing has been seen or heard of her since she left Java and grave fears are entertained for the ship's safety. Ninety days is considered a long run from Java to Vancouver and the Moreshire has been 142 days out. There is little reason for hope that she will ever be seen again.

MONROEVILLE.

The Budget of News From That Busy Town.

Miss Viola Parker visited her parents here last week. She returned to Fort Wayne Friday.

Farmers are preparing to plow for oats. Very early, indeed.

At the last council meeting an attempt was made to reduce the town liquor license from $150 to $100, but it failed, and our liquor sellers swear vengeance. They will form themselves into a compact and take out no town license.

Quite an interesting and lively revival is being conducted at the M. E. church by Rev. Hains. The capacity of the church is tested every night.

The Washingtonian party arrived home gay as larks, feeling well repaid for their trip. The parties who it is alleged took their "penitentiary striped ranes" got a little poetical on their return, but it did not last long, especially in the case of Saloonist Tillman, who will be all right when he reads this.

The postoffice question is a thing of silence, and it becomes our duty to let the people know that a new man will soon handle the Monroeville mail. The position is not a lucrative one, but many of our politicians are expecting it to be at their disposal.

Charles Saires, a bright and highly respected young man, died at his father's home on Barnhart street last Wednesday afternoon. The young man had been suffering from consumption for some time, and his death was not unexpected. The funeral services were held at the Catholic church Friday morning, Rev. Father Guilding, of Fort Wayne, officiating.

The township schools will close in two weeks, owing to the refusal of the railroads to pay their taxes. The laborers and farmers are at a loss to know what is being done with the increased taxes which they are "compelled" to pay.

By special arrangement the DAILY SENTINEL is at the disposal of its readers at this place one hour after it comes from the press. THE SENTINEL is unquestionably the most readable, newsiest newspaper sent to this town. Master Walter Purman, its special agent, informs us that there are seventy-two new subscribers to THE EVENING SENTINEL and more are to follow. This shows the appreciation of its worth.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Siezer are visiting relatives at Philadelphia and will make a tour of the large eastern cities before returning.

W. H. Cowen has accepted a position as clerk in Redelsheimer's store and will abandon teaching at the expiration of his term, two weeks hence. Six months of teaching will not dress and feed the babies, consequently he sought a more lucrative position. Other teachers will follow Mr. Cowen's example. W. H. Winen has engaged with A. S. Robinson, and Frank Winen seeks a mail route agency. Many of the "schoolmarms" will get married and thus not avail themselves of the "short terms."

In the wreckage here a few weeks ago on the Pittsburg road were two carloads of fine porcelain consigned to world's fair. The ware was spread in all directions, some landing at the bottom of Flat Rock, a stream near by, much of it being damaged. As a token of remembrance many of "our friends of the night" made themselves handy by taking home the things they prized so highly irrespective of size, shape or color. Not being satisfied with a single piece they carried them away in baskets, sacks, etc. The managers of the road were notified of the fact and an officer was sent here to investigate matters and found much of it, and had the same returned. Sad to say, some was found in charge of would-be citizens, officers and moralists. The officer has a clue to another "crate" and will be here in a few days.

The [illegible] company [illegible]

hope to meet with success one way or another. Work has been delayed on account of the attachment suit, but the company will begin again in a few days to sink another hole five miles southeast of town. The stockholders are now losing faith in the gas business propounded by the "gasers" and would sell out away below par. In fact quotations would be immaterial, just so, as a stockholder remarked to us the other day, as to have nothing further to do with the infernal thing. Now is your chance to make a "speck."

Marquardt & Hodle have placed a forty horse power engine in their tile mill west of town. They have the best quality of clay and one of the best tile mills manufactured, and they propose to make the tile business hum the coming summer.

QUARANTINE STATION

The Government Will Establish One At Hog Island.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Hog island, opposite the mouth of Patuxent river, where Mr. Cleveland passed a duck shooting vacation after the campaign, is to be taken possession of by the government as a quarantine station. This conclusion has just been reached at a conference between Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service and, Secretary Carlisle, the result of which was that Dr. Wyman was authorized to take the necessary steps to secure possession of the island and to establish the station.

The present quarantine stations at the mouth of the Chesapeake have been considered by the steam ship owners and others interested in ocean traffic to and from Baltimore as too far from the city and since the enactment by congress of legislation authorizing the government to establish such additional quarantine stations as might be necessary to prevent the introduction to the country of contagious diseases, the marine hospital authorities have been searching for a suitable location for Baltimore.

COTTON MILLS BURNED.

Three Persons Injured and Two Hundred and Fifty Idle.

EXETER, N. H., March 14.—Fire broke out in the Exeter cotton mills about 4 o'clock this morning. It started in the basement and burned up through the building, destroying the engine room and the older part of the mill, which was destroyed once before. The new part of the mill was saved. The fire was under control at 9.30. Loss estimated at $250,000. Three persons were injured. Two hundred and forty hands are thrown out of employment.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 14.—The five story building, corner of Wells and Light streets, occupied by Matthias Ingraham & Co., for the manufacture of tin and Japanned ware, was almost entirely destroyed by fire this morning with its contents. The fire is supposed to have started in the engine room. Owing to the inflammable material in the building, the fire gained rapidly and in a short time the entire structure was enveloped. The loss is about $100,000, covered by insurance.

TRAIN WRECKERS

Run Down by Bloodhounds and Captured.

MERIDIAN, Miss., March 14.—Mail train No. 2, on the New Orleans and Northeastern railroad, had a narrow escape from train wreckers near Tuscanola, Miss., Sunday night. A pile of cross-ties on the track was discovered by the engineer barely in time to avoid a disaster. Officer Horne took up the trail of the wreckers with his bloodhounds yesterday morning and after an exciting chase succeeded in arresting Cora Bell and Reuben Cooley. They were locked up and will have a hearing Friday. Evidence against them is very strong.

EXPLOSION IN A MINE.

Nine Persons Killed and Many More Wounded.

McALLISTER, I. T., March 14.—An explosion occurred at coal mine No. 1, of the Choctaw Coal company, at Ardmore, I. T., early this morning. Nine men are reported killed and many wounded. Ardmore is in the Chickasaw nation, a few miles north of the Texas line, and is on the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe road. A similar accident occurred there about a year ago, in which a number of miners lost their lives.

The Indians Quiet.

VICTORIA, B. C., March 14.—Provincial Chief of Police Hussey, has received a message from Manager Kirkland, of Rivers Inlet cannery, dated March 8, stating that there is no excitement among the Indians and no reason to fear trouble. Officers of the Indian department here do not think there is much truth in the story of the recently reported murders.

Makes an Assignment.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 14.—Henry Glass & Co., dealers in and shippers of hops, made an assignment today for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are estimated at $50,000 or more, with the total amount of assets unknown. Robert H. Cochrane, of Trinway, Ohio, is a special partner for $10,000 and is not liable beyond that amount.

Benjamin Pickard, the missing township trustee of Sammetsville, has been located in Indianapolis. His books are found to be in a mottled condition but he has sufficient property to cover possible shortage besides which his son volunteers to stand good for whatever may be lacking. It is the under[illegible] that Mr. Pickard [illegible]

HOOSIER HASH

As Dished Up From Different Parts of the State.

The butchers of Terre Haute have agreed on a union slaughter house and stock yards, and contracts will be let calling for $20,000 investments.

Marshal Perkins, of Rochdale, raided a gambling den, arresting fourteen players, but upon arraigning them before 'Squire Cline, to be admitted to bond the magistrate was found to be too drunk to attend to business. The marshal thereupon released his prisoners. The marshal also notified the voters of Rochdale that unless a sober magistrate was elected he would resign.

Three hundred delegates attended the Y. P. S. C. E. district convention at Winchester. A special feature was an address by the Rev. Francis E. Marsten, of Columbus, Ohio, his theme, "Three Great Things in Endeavor Work." Mrs. M. L. Hagerman, of Muncie, secretary, tendered her resignation, and John B. Branch, of Newcastle was elected. The next semi-annual convention will be held at Knightstown.

There was a peculiar accident in James Kintner's saw mill, in Boone township, Harrison county. The belt running the fly-wheel broke and the engineer shut off the steam and jumped out of the way. The moving belt, however, struck a lever, turning on the steam and again setting the engine in motion. Then the fly-wheel burst, scattering the fragments in every direction and seriously injuring Joseph Edmondson.

John Speer, of Orleans went to Louisville, Ky., and invested in "green goods," giving cash and a note on Stephen Reister for $450. He then returned to Orleans with his package, only to find that it contained slips of brown paper instead of $20,000 in "greenbacks." The Orleans Examiner says that after making this investment Speers was called upon by Mr. Reister, who took up his note, as he supposed, for $950, only to find a day or two afterward that the genuine note was resting in the bank.

ABOUT COLUMBIA BICYCLES.

With a Few Pointers About What Kind to Buy—Victors.

On the Columbia calendar for this year, date of Feb. 2, appears the following:

"The reduction of the selling price of anything is a virtual admission that it has no standard value." Columbias are always sold for a fixed price.

Now who would have imagined that the publication of this well-known Columbia principle would have led to any trouble?

And yet it did.

Along came a Quaker wheelman, who had bought a Century Columbia toward the tail-end of last season, and who assuming that he was injured by this year's reduction in the price of the 1892 machines, therefore sat down and indicted the following letter—not to the Pope Mfg. Co., but to Colonel Pope personally.

Col. Albert A. Pope:

DEAR SIR: Enclosed please find a leaf from Columbia Calendar Pad for '93, bearing appropriate remarks:

I would be much obliged for an expirant statement regarding the amount of truth usually contained in a Columbia advertisement.

Ladies and gentlemen who purchase Columbias may have the same experience next year.

Victor bicycles are the best and are not sold under standard prices. We refer you to the following prominent riders, who have purchased Victors for this year's mount. They can tell you what Victors are:

Messrs. Harry Pickard, Herbert Bond, H. G. Robertson, C. G. Morgenthaler, Frank Stouder, Frank Keplinger, C. C. Adams, Gustave Delzer, Hugh Bond, Harry Keplinger, William Gouty, Henry Stier, jr., Chas. Rabus, W. H. Olds, George Cressler, J. B. Harper, W. A. Gould.

Our stock of bicycles and cycle supplies is the largest ever brought here. We handle besides Victors, The Majestic light roadster, a 32 pound machine, for $115 and it has no equal in the world.

The Ariel model B, 1892 pattern this year's pneumatic regular $150 machine for $120. Also the Kenwoods, Royals, Monarchs, Lynhurst, Ariels, Credendas and Western Wheel Works' bicycles, which are the best, for $50 to $100.

If you intend to invest $150, get a Victor. Don't accept any other. If you don't care to invest that much we can give you a machine for less, which is as good as any, Victors excepted. The supplies are complete, everything you can think of at prices that will surprise you.

Machines are sold on monthly payments to responsible persons. A general repairing shop is connected. Solid and cushion tires changed to pneumatic.

Don't fail to examine our stock or you may regret it.

Yours Truly,
A. B. WHITE CYCLE CO.,

George Wright, formerly an employe of the Pearse livery barns on Holman street is accused of forgery and he is now missing from the city. It seems that Mr. Pearse paid Wright on a check and yesterday two checks for $— came in against him. The checks had been cashed at Joe Doucles saloon, corner Calhoun and Chicago streets, and were dated March 11. Wright is thought to be in Chicago.

THEY "DID UP" DAD!

Father and Sons Had a Pitched Battle in Frenchtown

And the Old Man Was Worsted—A Keg of Beer and a Game of Cards Was the Cause.

Frank Fournier and his three sons, Joseph, Lewis and Frank, are on trial this afternoon in Justice France's court on three criminal charges each—assault and battery, riot and drunkenness.

They live on Furman street, in the southern part of the city, and for some time past many of their neighbors have been complaining about their drunken and boisterous conduct on Sabbath days and at nights.

Last Sunday afternoon the old man and his three sons took it into their heads that they would have a good time, and accordingly a keg of beer was purchased and taken to their house, where the afternoon was spent in drinking and playing cards.

At the latter occupation the old man was "boss" and managed to "clean out" his sons. All of them, however, knew how to swill down beer and late in the afternoon they got gloriously drunk.

It wasn't long before a difficulty arose between the father and his sons and they commenced a fight which in a short time was transferred to the street and in which clubs, stones, chairs, firewood and knives figured. In this drunken riot the three sons fought against the father and they gave him a terrible bad beating.

They kept up their drunken carousal until late in the night and kept everybody in that neighborhood awake, as they had often done before, with their swearing and shouting. As a result complaint was made to Justice France and this morning the four men were put under arrest.

A PROVOKE CASE.

A hotly contested provoke case was tried in Justice Ryan's court last evening, and as a result Mrs. Carrie Koorson was fined $1 and costs for provoking Mary Fromuth. The parties are neighbors, living in the Seventh ward, and the difficulty between them arose from the defendant calling the children of the prosecuting witness bad names. P. B. Colerick represented the state in the trial of the case and the defense was championed by Representative John F. Rodabaugh. The case was appealed to the circuit court.

SALOON MAN FINED.

William Oetting, the Fairfield avenue saloonkeeper, was fined $20 and costs by Mayor Zollinger, for selling liquor to a minor named Fred Bierbaum. Bierbaum is the fellow, nineteen years old, who was arrested the other day for throwing hot coffee on his mother's hands.

SUED THE CITY.

Yesterday, in the circuit court, John F. Barnett, brother of Dr. Barnett, brought suit against the city of Fort Wayne for $5,000 damages. Several months ago it will be remembered that Mr. Barnett fell into a cellar grating on Barr street, between Main and Columbia streets, and broke his leg in two places. Since that time he has been confined to his bed most of the time and asks for the above amount for his injuries.

DISBARRED FROM PRACTICE.

John W. R. Milliner, an attorney at the Wabash bar, has been suspended from practice in the circuit court at that place during the remainder of this term. There has been considerable friction between Mr. Milliner and Judge Cowgill, owing to the former insisting on taking a change of venue from the judge in twenty-five cases which he had for trial. When Mr. Milliner submitted his last affidavit, alleging that his client could not get justice before Judge Cowgill, the judge scored him in open court for subornation and perjury and suspended him. Mr. Milliner says that he will take steps to remove the stigma which has been cast upon his professional character.

COURT NEWS.

The case of Julius Wagner vs. L. V. Hiler was heard this afternoon by Justice Wilkinson.

Justice Ryan had two more dog cases before him last evening against James Jacobs and John Ernus. The cases were dismissed.

Charles Kalbus, of Washington township, was adjudged of unsound mind yesterday by a commission of lunacy, consisting of 'Squires Ryan and Tancey and Dr. Cary.

Four members of the Repp family, who reside near Maysville, were fined $1 and costs by Justice Wilkinson for cutting timber on land belonging to G. W. Hall. The same defendants were each fined $5 and costs on the charge of malicious trespass. The cases were appealed.

HENRY GEORGE.

He Arrives In the City This Afternoon.

Public Reception Held in the Parlors of the New Aveline Hotel.

Henry George, the famous political economist and writer, arrived in the city this afternoon over the Wabash railway at 1.25 and was immediately taken to the Aveline hotel.

Henry George is perhaps one of the best known men in the United States and his fame extends to many foreign countries. At an early age he learned the printer's trade and went to San Francisco [illegible] reduced circumstances. It was, however, in that city he first became interested in those questions which have since made him famous. He studied and read widely. Fortune which before had seemed to slight him now smiled upon the ambitious young man.

He was appointed to a number of minor offices under the municipal government and won the esteem of many keen thinkers by his views upon economic questions. The publication of his book, "Progress and Poverty," at once made him famous. Since then he has written much and traveled far and wide. He began the publication of the Standard in New York, devoted to the single tax theory. The paper was published for some years and then discontinued.

Henry George is a remarkable man when it is considered that without the benefits of a college education he has arisen by his own efforts to the place he now holds.

This afternoon, after his arrival at the hotel, a reception was held from 3 to 5 o'clock, at which time hundreds of prominent citizens called to pay their respects.

After the lecture this evening he will be a guest of the Fort Wayne club.

CLOSED ITS DOORS.

The Failure of a Big Banking Company at Kansas City.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 14.—The Kansas Trust and Banking company, of which Senator Ingalls is president closed its doors at 5 o'clock last night. The liabilities of the concern are estimated at $800,000, and the assets will probably reach $700,000. The company owns 30,000 acres of land in Kansas and about $20,000 worth of property in this city. R. M. Manley, general manager, loses $250,000. Freland Tufts, of Kansas City, was appointed receiver by Judge Foster, in the United States court at Topeka yesterday. There was about $30,000 on deposit when the bank closed its doors. Senator Ingalls loses only about $10,000. The concern loaned considerable money on Kansas property at boom figures, and was compelled to take it in, and was unable to realize as much as had been advanced.

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Writes a Letter About Mgr. Satolli's Washington Home.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—Cardinal Gibbons has written a letter to Rev. Patrick Cronin, of Buffalo, New York, anent the project for an official residence at Washington for Archbishop Satolli, the apostolic delegate, in which he says: "The project meets with my warm approval, and I have reason to believe that the Holy Father will be delighted on witnessing the clergy and people of the United States testifying in this manner their veneration and love of the apostolic delegate. While a sense of delicacy naturally prevents Mgr. Satolli from publicly expressing an opinion on the subject, I am sure he will feel grateful for the proposed testimonial in his behalf, not only as an act of affection for himself, but also of edification to the Catholic community at large. I rejoice to learn that the venerable Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, has kindly consented to act as treasurer of the proposed enterprise. It could not be assigned to better hands."

LOCAL LINES.

Dr. G. W. McCaskey went to Chicago this morning.

Judge R. S. Taylor started for Washington, D. C., last evening.

A. E. Conover and wife of Coldwater, Mich., are guests of the Aldine.

Thomas Bresnihan has accepted a position with Madden, the plumber.

Mart Hener, who fractured the bones of his right leg five weeks ago, walked down town on crutches yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cline, of the Home restaurant, went to Mansfield, Ohio, this morning to visit Mr. Cline's parents. They will return home Friday.

Mrs. C. R. Northrop, of Monroe, Mich., who is visiting her son, Rev. S. A. Northrop, was taken alarmingly ill Sunday but is better today. Her husband was telegraphed for and is now here.

The boiler in the hoop factory of J. L. Meyers, at Bluffton, exploded at 7.15 last evening. Nearly the entire boiler was thrown a distance of 400 feet, landing on one of the principal streets. Fireman George Hart was severely injured.

P. A. Randall, who was yesterday summoned to Los Angeles, Cal., by a telegram from the bedside of the late G. W. Seavey, was intercepted at Kansas City by a telegram announcing that Mr. Seavey was dead. He immediately returned to this city.

Last evening Messrs. Ehrman & Geller, the West Main street barbers, received five boxes from Chicago containing mirrors for their shop which is being elegantly refitted. When they were opened Messrs. Ehrman & Geller were disappointed to find that all of the five mirrors were broken. As they were worth at least $30 apiece the loss amounts to $150.

The Nameless club was entertained at progressive pedro last evening by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tolan at their south side home. The most fortunate players were Mr. W. H. Freese and Mr. J. G. W. SEAVEY IS DEAD.

Death Came to Him at Los Angeles, California,

Where He Had Gone for the Benefit of His Health—Sketch of His Prominent and Useful Life.

Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at Los Angeles, Cal., occurred the death of Gideon W. Seavey, one of Fort Wayne's well known and prominent business men, and a citizen who was esteemed by all for his many sterling qualities of mind and heart.

The intelligence of his death was telegraphed to this city last night by D. B. Kehler, the general manager of the Fort Wayne Furniture company, who was at his bedside.

Mr. Seavey had been in poor health for some years past and during the last several years had been traveling through the west in the hope that change of scene and climate would be beneficial to him. He had battled bravely with the disease, consumption, which afflicted him, but all in vain, for travel and medical skill could not save him, and he was at last forced to yield to the stern conqueror of all—death.

Mrs. Seavey left for Los Angeles last week and shortly after her arrival there sent a telegram to her brother, Mr. P. A. Randall, in this city, summoning him to Los Angeles. He left last evening for the west in response to the message.

Mr. Seavey was born at Palmyra, Ill., Feb. 14, 1848, and was the youngest of six children. His father, Winthrop Seavey, of New Hampshire, was a soldier in the war of 1812. He was one of the pioneer settlers of Lee county, Ill., where he died in 1865. He was married in 1874 to Miss Amy C. Randall, daughter of Judge Edwin and Mary A. Randall, at Avilla, Ind.

In 1864 when he was seventeen years old, he left the farm to serve in Company D, One Hundred and Fortieth regiment Illinois infantry, and served till the close of the war. After the war he was graduated from the Michigan university, in 1871, receiving the degree of B. A., and two years later that of M. A. In January, 1872, he established the Hoopeston (Ill.) Chronicle and successfully edited it for five years.

He came to Fort Wayne in 1877 to engage in the practice of law with Mr. P. A. Randall. In 1890 he retired from the legal profession to become a lumber dealer and subsequently he sold out to embark in the hardware business which he has conducted very successfully. In fact he was eminently successful in all his undertakings and was a very valuable and enterprising citizen.

At the time of his death he was president of the Seavey Hardware company in this city.

It is one of the largest wholesale and retail hardware stores in the country. He has had a business career of varied experiences and has shown a notable ability in his different enterprises.

Mr. Seavey was a scholar and a brilliant writer, many of his articles having appeared in the THE SENTINEL and other papers in this city. They were always interesting, always able, and treated of questions and topics that were always timely.

His wife and two children survive. The children are Walter A., a student at the central grammar school, and Irma M., a pupil at the Westminster seminary.

The remains will be brought to Fort Wayne for interment and will probably arrive in Fort Wayne in time for burial here next Sunday.

OTHER DEATHS.

The burial of Frank Burns, who died from alcoholic poison, was held today. There were no funeral services.

John, the two year old child of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Schneider, 107 Wallace street, died at 11:30 o'clock last night of lung fever. They are doubly afflicted by this death, their three year old daughter, Beatrice, having died Saturday. The funeral of both children will take place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church.

Jessie, the six year and six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Wilt, of No. 306 South Calhoun street, died of diphtheria at 9:30 a. m. today. The little one was unusually bright and loveable and her loss is keenly felt by her parents. The funeral was held this afternoon privately.

The funeral of Miss Hattie Pichon will be held tomorrow morning from St. Patrick's church at 10 o'clock.

Last evening a large number of property holders on East Berry street met in the city engineer's office with the special council committee on streets and alleys and city engineer and city attorney. The matter of paving that thoroughfare from Barr to Monroe street, a distance of 1,200 feet, was under discussion. The subject was warmly argued pro and con, the result being decidedly in favor of brick. More than 1,600 feet out of 2,400, or more than two thirds voted in favor of that material.

The Columbia bicycle, Model 30, on exhibition in Gross & Fellens' window, at the corner of Calhoun and Wayne streets, is attracting a great deal of attention. The famous "Hickory" bicycle will be exhibited in the same window in a few days. It is quite a novelty and said to be the most beautiful bicycle made. Parties desiring catalogues or information about either bicycle, should call on the agent, C. W. Edgerton, at 57 West Main street.

The two children of Mrs. Needham [illegible] of Melita street, who are sick with diphtheria, are reported to be much better today. [illegible]

HENRY GEORGE, who lectures in this city tonight, addressed the Illinois legislature last night.

FORT WAYNE will celebrate America's Independence day this year with a butchers' barbecue.

THERE is a good deal of speculation among republicans as to who the new chairman of the state committee will be. There is some objection to E. H. Nebeker, who, it is said, is not of that social disposition desirable in a chairman. The latest talk is in favor of ex-Congressman George W. Steele, of Marion.

"Died from alcoholism!" This is the epitaph that will be written over the grave of the young man who died on Chicago street Sunday afternoon. His sad ending carries with it its own lesson, but it will be unheeded, for drink will continue to claim its victims and carry them to drunkards' graves by the thousands every year.

SOME people have not yet learned that the electric cars only stop at street crossings, and only after they have passed the crossing. Amusing instances of the ignorance of this rule are witnessed every day. Don't stand in the middle of a square and yell at the motor man to stop. It will do you no good, for he must obey rules.

HON. JOHN S. WILLIAMS, representative from Brown and Monroe counties, in the late legislature, died Saturday afternoon at St. Vincent's hospital, Indianapolis, from pneumonia. Mr. Williams was prominent in the legislature on his, the democratic, side of the house and took an active part in the making of what laws were made by that body.

WE trust the democrats at Chicago will think more of the welfare of their city than they do of their party and snow Carter Harrison under by such a big majority that he will be satisfied to hereafter remain in private life. When Carter was mayor before he was a most dismal failure. The democrats of Chicago deserve defeat for having allowed the ward bummers of that burg to nominate such a man.

THE new Columbian postage stamps have made the regular trade in stamps look up considerably. The new issue has proved a lucky speculation on the part of the government. Collectors and dealers have bought them in large quantities and since they are only to be issued during [illegible] they [illegible] a stamp dealer had orders for them aggregating $2,000 [illegible] had been received [illegible] from collectors [illegible]. All these stamps are just so much clear profit to the government, except for the comparatively trivial cost of manufacture, for they will be [illegible] collections and never put upon letters for the government to carry.

[illegible] to Grover Cleveland [illegible] The first statement was that no newspaper men need apply, and the second was that he would not enforce the civil service rules. He has denied both of them. He may also deny the statement attributed to him that no person holding office under his former administration will receive recognition during the present term.

[illegible] subject which at the present time, excites the interest of the astronomical world is the approaching eclipse of the sun. The eclipse will take place on April 16 and under circumstances of which the past has furnished no example. Every means which wealth, science and invention can produce will be employed to make the event the beginning of a new era in astronomy. There is scarcely an observatory or school of any importance which has not already determined to add to its fame by valuable contributions, on that occasion, to the existing knowledge of the solar regions. Every civilized country will send expeditions to Africa where as far as it lies in the power of science to determine, the most favorable observations will be obtained.

THE retirement of Dr. A. J. Kesler as coroner of the county in which office he served for two terms with credit to himself and the county, recalls his uniform courtesy and kindness to newspaper reporters when in search of news concerning violent deaths, the investigation of the causes of which was his duty. He was always ready, always willing to give the newspaper men such information as he possessed about these tragic events, and was never too busy but that he could inform them of a fatal accident, a suicide or a murder when they occurred. His example in this respect should be followed by other officials and men who are placed in a position where news of an interesting nature to the public first comes to them. There are some men, however, who seem to think it their duty to keep this kind of information from the papers, and they even refuse to tell the facts when they are solicited by reporters to do so. Such narrow mindedness and false ideas of duty are to be condemned. Men, whether they are in high or low official positions, should be civil and courteous. These traits do not cost anything. It requires only a moment or two of their time to give reporters the desired information, and by so doing they are bestowing a benefit upon the great reading public.

Our National Elections.

The country has lately gone through its great presidential canvass. How much did it cost? The little items are the expense of printing ballots and the time and labor of the men who sit behind the rail and receive the ballots, but these expenditures must foot up for the whole country, many millions of dollars. Legitimate expenses of political parties, according to competent authority, would amount to other millions—just how many no man could guess. Enormous bills were necessarily incurred for printing, for postage, for the rent of halls, for the traveling expenses of delegates to conventions and of stump speakers, for the equipment of political clubs with uniforms and torches, and for other purposes somewhat similar. Worst of all were the expenditures for the secret service of the political parties, the cost of the dark and hidden art, purchased votes, corrupt dealers to cheat voters and to falsify their will. Great as was the money expense of all this, the real cost of it is not measured by dollars. The country pays for it in a loss of moral stamina, in demoralization of the public conscience. Just before the election a New York newspaper declared that in a certain city, which it named, containing twenty-five hundred voters, there were eight hundred votes for sale. Men were so shameless that they even organized to put up the price—"struck" for more pay for their votes. If the story is true, what a tale it tells of the manner men who have taught these purchasable voters to expect pay!

The Law on Therapeutics.

A bill has been introduced in the United States senate which indicates that the necessity of state regulation of the practice of certain branches in modern therapeutics has become recognized. DAMES OF CHICAGO'S GREAT UNIVERSITY.

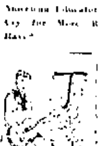
They Are All In the Front Rank of American Educators. Why Do Women Ask for More Rights Than They Have?



THE ESTABLISHMENT of the Chicago University marked a step in both education and civilization. When the university project was made public, for the first time in the history of the world it was taken as a matter of course, as a granted fact, that women were to be admitted. The perfect equality of the trustees was shown by the fact that the question of sex has never been mentioned.

The faculty has been chosen from the field of the world, and five of its members are women. The first fellow appointed was a woman. There are to be more dormitory accommodations for women than for men. The dormitory and gymnasium directresses are absolutely the only ones. The five women of the faculty are especially remarkable for one reason. Men have been trained for generations to take positions like these. They have had great institutions to train them. They have been preparing from boyhood. These women must necessarily be in great measure self-trained, and yet they are able to take their places and ask for no odds.

To be the dean of a college requires a fine equipment of faculties and attainments. A dean has an oversight similar to the watchfulness of a college president. The institution is on a higher plane than that of rules and discipline. There are no rules here. The larger number of students are men and women who have taken one or two degrees in other institutions. The tone is given by the post-graduates. Among the women students are graduates from twenty eight colleges and universities. It is the intention of the head dean, Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, to keep the social tone of the college at the highest level.

Like all women and men who have been pronounced successes in any vocation which calls for large contact with people Mrs. Palmer first attracts by her personality and then holds by her attainments.

She represents American possibilities—and probabilities. She was born the daughter of a small farmer in Broome County, New York. When she was 16 her father sent her to Ann Arbor. This school was her choice because it gave her chance to pit her intellectual prowess against men as well as women. She graduated four years later, in 1876.

Three years after her graduation Miss Freeman went to Wellesley College simply to take the classes in history. Now Mrs. Palmer has the "historical mind." The historical mind must necessarily be the logical mind, one that can reason backward can reason forward. The chain of events was always so clear and perfect to her and her power of showing it to her classes was so great that her formative ability became conspicuous in the college and a very few years saw her its president.

During her stay at Wellesley Miss Freeman's influence was a real and personal thing to every pupil who came under her care. It is said that every girl who left her, a graduate, was an advertisement for the institution. Four years ago she married Prof. George H. Palmer of Harvard College. It was a general disappointment that the two could not be brought together to the University of Chicago.

Mrs. Palmer comes for twelve weeks in each year, ostensibly as a lecturer upon history, really in that twelve weeks she is making a visitation of inspiration as she is a living illustration of the ends of a thorough education.

During Mrs. Palmer's absence the head dean of women is Miss Marion Talbot from Boston and Wellesley College.

Her mother is a well known Massachusetts woman, a leader in various educational societies, [illegible] secretary of the educational department of the American Social Science society. Miss Talbot was born in Switzerland and has lived much abroad, but says that she considers her education and impulses entirely American.

Miss Clara E. Foster is the tutor in physical culture and a very young woman to be a member of the faculty of a great university. She assists Mr. Stagg in his department and has entire charge of certain courses among the women. Her post is important. Some courses in the university are elective, but no degree can be given without the course in physical culture. The university believes that the human organism is mind and body.

Miss Foster says that as a very young [illegible] read a story in Wide Awake of a school girl who went to a physical culture school and afterward she could see no career for herself except the one she had chosen.

She is a graduate of the medical college of the University of Buffalo, also the only graduate with full diploma of Dr. Sargent's school in Boston, where a full medical diploma is a requisite. She has studied the Swedish school under Posse and with Lister, and adopts the entire theory of no one school. She has adopted features from each with a course of her own.

Miss Foster examines every woman who comes into her classes, and gives her, individually, the exercises suited to her physical condition. They begin upon a general preparatory course to get the muscles in order, then each pupil goes into a training needed by her body, for its functions and some nutrition well being. The first object is good health, the second good form. Miss Foster says that 70 is the lowest possible percentage of pupils that she finds with curvature of the spine. The physical training given to the women students differs radically from that given men by Mr. Stagg. The object is to make a perfect woman, not a half man. The outdoor exercises are tennis and boating in Washington Park and walks.

Mrs. Zella A. Dixon, in charge of the University Libraries is equipped with all the new methods of the modern librarian. This work requires today a special training in bibliography, technical systems of cataloguing, methods of bringing new books before the public, and the way to stimulate people to read. It requires the study of practical moral questions as a thoroughly trained mind. Mrs. Dixon is a graduate of Mount Holyoke. She studied library work at Columbia College, and for a year was Assistant Librarian there.

The first fellow appointed in the new university was Miss Myra Reynolds, the daughter of a Baptist minister in Pueblo, Col. She took her degrees at Vassar and was for some time a professor at Wells College, afterwards a professor of English literature at Vassar. Miss Reynolds has for some years made a specialty of the study of the Wordsworthian school of poetry. Her degree was won by a thesis upon poetry. The past summer was spent in study in the English lake country. She had her camera and made views which will be used to illustrate lectures. Many of them are of spots to which she was introduced by friends which have never before been pictured nor seen by the general public of travelers at all. Miss Reynolds is the only woman fellow in English. Miss Antoinette Eli of Cincinnati is a fellow who has been a student of Leipsic University. It is a singular fact that though no German woman is allowed in the German universities American women come in as "visitors."

There are several other women fellows of distinction. The fellowships are senior and junior, one paying $500 a year and the other $360. Each fellow has some duties, such as library assistance or classroom work. Each is supposed to be in training for a possible professorship.

But the women who have been gathered together here are for the most part women who do not depend upon any specialty for distinction, but are women who could take up any department of life and fill it with credit.

To Measure a River.

Anybody can measure approximately the breadth of a river. [illegible] The man who desires to make the experiment should place himself at the edge of the stream, then stand perfectly still, face the opposite bank and lower the brim of his hat until it just cuts the opposite bank. Then let him put both his hands under his chin to steady his head, and turn slowly round until the hat brim cuts some point on the level ground behind him. Mark the spot where the hat brim cuts the ground, then pace off the distance and it will be found about the breadth of the river.

A HEN WITH A HISTORY.

Record of an Humble Fowl That's Gifted with Wonderful Sagacity.

"How d'ye do?" he asked, with a grin of familiar recognition. "Don't seem to know me, do ye? I was in here last year and gave yer some anecdotes about some snakes I saw about. Remember?"

"Yes," growled the editor. "I recollect you. All your snake stories were false, and we got letters from all over the world saying so. What do you want now?"

"You don't tell me," ruminated the snake man, smoothing his hat softly. "False," was they? Mebbe the parties as wrote to yer knowed more about them snakes than me. P'rhaps what I come to tell yer about my speckled hen is all false, too."

"What has she done?"

"She's done more than the snakes, and if snakes was lies that hen's a whopper, that's all I can say," and he looked deeply injured.

"Tell us about her," said the editor.

"Yer heern about the cat that hatched chickens, I reckon. Well, my old speckled hen's bin discounting that cat. She's hatched four brood of kittens, one in each brood."

"Oh, go home and sleep it off," recommended the indignant editor.

"Fact! Four brood, and one to the brood. I seen her gittin' restless and settin on things, and tried for to knock her out o' the idee. No use. She'd set on a hot flatiron but what she'd set."

"First she hatched an old milkpail into tin cups, and then she squatted on some dough that was set to rise, and I'm blessed if she didn't hatch out a dozen biscuits and then try to learn 'em to swim.

"I seen she was gettin' broody, and I says to the old woman, says I, 'Mar, sumpin' must be done for that speckled hen.' Mar tumbled to the idee, and says she: 'It must.' So with that we figgered what we'd best do. While we was figgerin' she set on a load of wood, and I'll eat a grind stun if it didn't come out all sawed and split. I'm tellin' yer this so yer won't think the kittens was unnat'ral.

"Well, mar and me figgered and figgered, and while we was figgerin' the speckled hen was figgerin' too. She hopped on to a bar'l o' scrap iron, and I'm hanged if she didn't whack out two hundred papers o' tacks. We seen that sumpin' had got ter be done right off, but before we hit on to the scheme, tan my skin if she didn't set on the pump handle and hatch it into toothpicks. Sure as yer born.

"Somehow my reapin' machine got under her one night, and the next morning it was four tent-pegs. Yer never seen nothin' like it. She was bent fer to set, I'll tell yer."

"No doubt of it. But how about the kittens?"

"Well, some men came to put a new roof to the house; got there just before dinner, and left their tools in the yard. I see the old hen watching them tools, but I didn't think no harm. Just before that—"

"Never mind anything else. Come to the cats."

"Jist so. While we was at dinner I seen her explorin', and I didn't know, from what happened the day before—"

"Drop that!" said the editor, sternly, "give us the four brood of cats, one in a brood."

"Well, the four workmen were at dinner, and the old speckled hen was nosin' about, and I says to mar: 'Mar—'"

"Out with those cats quick."

"Certainly. The tools was outside, yer know, four sets on 'em in—what's this they carry tools in?"

"A kit."

"And that old speckled hen sot on them four kits, and if she didn't hatch out four brood o'—"

The editor bounded from his chair, brandishing a heavy paper-weight. The story was never finished.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

THAT TROUBLESOME BABY.

How a Woman's Pet Annoyed All the Passengers on the Train.

She had a shrill young voice that pervaded the whole car, and when she spoke to the infantile darling at her side she dropped over into baby talk that made all the other passengers grit their teeth and clutch the plush backs of the seats in front. The car was full, and the fond young guardian of infancy and innocence occupied the first seat. Back to back with that was the seat that faced the stove, and on this undesirable spot sat a thin, old man, with three satchels and chin whiskers. There was a lull for a few miles and the passengers began to relax their muscles and breathe freer, when the fusilade suddenly began again.

"Peepy, little dirl? Oh, so seepy?"

No response.

"Was oo mamma's wittle yum? Mamma's wittle yummy yum? Look at me! Oh, you bad. Wes oo mamma's naughty bad?"

Three slaps.

"Oh, you bad, precious little sing. Mamma's Daisy Bucktums, her ownie totty trots. Kissum me! Do you hear? Kissum me!"

There were beads of perspiration on the man with the chin whiskers, and when the conductor opened the car door he gave a convulsive shiver that knocked down the coal shovel.

"Conductor," he whispered, "you haven't come too soon."

"Why?"

"I'm a desperate man."

"Too hot?" asked the conductor, soothingly, opening the stove door.

"Hot? Man, it's that woman and baby back of me. It's the baby twaddle. I tell you I can't stand it. I've [illegible] towns and I didn't raise 'em on that. Git the woman anything she wants. Git her a house and lot. I'll chip in, but keep her quiet. If you don't conductor, I'll brain that baby with this valise sample case. Hear? I'm desperit."

The conductor didn't reply. He leaned over to the young woman and said:

A Prehistoric Oak.

A chimney-piece, carved from wood over six thousand years old, has recently been erected in a house in Edinburgh. The wood, an oak tree, was found in a sand pit at Musselburgh, thirteen feet below the surface. Prof. Geikie, of the chair of geology at the university of Edinburgh, after personally examining the strata in which the oak was found, said the tree—which was five feet nine inches in diameter—must be at least six thousand years old, and describes it as a relic of neolithic man. It was in a fine state of preservation, due to the sand, and was easily workable.—Argonaut.

Cleary—How so?

Weary—Well, it makes a great noise, like its father, and keeps it up all the time, like its mother.—Puck.

CHARMED BY A SERPENT.

A Tennesseean's Singular Adventure With a Rattlesnake.

J. W. Felts, a prominent and reliable citizen of Tennessee relates the following extraordinary story of the unaccountable influence exerted upon him by a rattlesnake a short time ago, says the Chicago Tribune. In his own language the story is as follows:

"I started out one day in company with a colored man to cut some timber, having a measuring pole in hand, the negro carrying an ax. After a time we separated, and I had not gone far before I noticed a large rattlesnake in the path ahead of me. Apparently we discovered each other about the same time, and both stopped. My first thought was to kill the reptile but all at once he threw himself into a coil, and I concluded, as the space around us was open and not fearing his escape, to wait and see what the snake would do. I was soon intently watching his movements. He cut up more antics than I had ever seen performed by a snake.

To me it was a picture well calculated to attract and rivet attention, and my purpose of destruction was soon forgotten. Ere I was aware of it I stood, or rather stooped, spellbound, as if transfixed to the spot, without the power of speaking or moving, save in obedience to the will of my captor. I felt the distance between us continually lessening, and, although I was conscious of my perilous position, I seemed powerless to change it, and, what may seem to be more strange, had no desire to do so; only to approach nearer the object that, under different circumstances, would have been one of terror rather than attraction. I knew we were gradually nearing each other, but how I could not tell, not being conscious of moving, and the snake seemed to occupy the same position relatively as at first.

I only know that in the beginning I stood erect. Now I was in a kneeling position, my body inclining forward, my right hand extended, gradually nearing the snake, not in a straight line, but oscillating, and at each movement lessening the distance. From the first moment that caught the eyes of the reptile there seemed a line extending from each of his eyes to mine about the size of an ordinary sewing thread, which seemed to exert a power over me sufficient to hold me in the first position and render me subservient to his will.

"How long I remained in this position I know not. The colored man becoming uneasy at my prolonged absence commenced calling me. I could distinctly hear him, but had no power to answer. Finally searching for me he found me in the attitude described. He again called to me, but as before I paid no attention to him. Then he came nearer and discovered the huge reptile within a few feet of me coiled for the death spring, my right hand within a few inches of his mouth, each gazing fixedly into the other's eyes. He comprehended the situation at once, took hold of me violently and threw me backward from the snake, thus partially breaking the spell. No effort was made by the snake to escape. The negro at once killed the snake, while I all the time was begging him not to do so. It measured about six feet in length and fourteen inches in circumference and had eight rattles.

"I was so completely under the influence of the snake that I could not shake it off, nor, in fact, had any disposition to do so. The hallucination was not only pleasant, but exhilarating, and there was only lacking one undefinable something—I could not tell what, but it seemed almost within my grasp—to make my happiness complete. So powerful was the effect upon my system that I was stricken down with a severe spell of sickness."

To Avert Sneezing.

Sneezing is averted by pressing the upper lip, because by doing so we deaden the impression made on a certain branch of the fifth nerve, sneezing being a reflex action excited by some slight impression on that nerve. Sneezing does not take place when the fifth nerve is paralyzed, even though the sense of smell is retained.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Good Prospects for a Rate War in Grain Carrying.

Incidents of Daily Occurrence About the Railroads and Shops of This Busy City.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 11.—There is prospect of a railroad rate war in the grain carrying trade as soon as it begins coming down the lakes. Even now the loads bound east from Buffalo are said to be open for dicker, which, with so little grain to catch as at present is significant. A local shipper says that the thirteen cent rate by rail has not been held up at all and does not think it has been over ten cents all winter. The rate depends entirely upon the quantity shipped. He predicts that the grain rate to New York will be down to five cents or less before a canal boat leaves here this spring. This makes it look as though the canal would not have a very easy thing of it after all, in spite of the supposition that there is going to be grain enough for everybody. Were the roads inclined to let well enough alone, there would be business enough for all, but they seem to prefer to carry it at a loss as usual, rather than see it go by the canal.

THE ANN ARBOR STRIKE OFF.

TOLEDO, Ohio, March 11.—The order of Judge Ricks, based on the interstate commerce act, had its influence on both railroads and strikers in the Ann Arbor trouble. Neither side seems anxious to take any step in direct opposition to the law as set forth in the order of the court, and although President Ashley had stated that he would consider no proposition and the men were equally independent, both sides have finally agreed to make concessions. Today President Ashley and State Railroad Commissioner Wm. Kirkby, representing the men, are closeted and whatever agreement they come to will be accepted as final by both sides. Commissioner Kirkby will look over the books and records of the company and will ask that the men be paid wages based on the work they perform and the earnings of the road as compared with other railroads in the Central Traffic territory. The strike is practically off.

BRIEF MENTION.

J. H. Swander has taken a position in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson.

The employes of the Bass machine shop are now working thirteen hours per day.

Levi Hoopengarner, formerly a fireman on the Chicago and Erie road, is in the city.

F. W. Bulger, machinist at the Bass works, has resumed operations after a short illness.

A. Wilson and John Kelley, steam fitters and Pennsylvania employes, are on the sick list.

Charlie Daseler has returned to his duties in the Pittsburg shops, after an absence of two weeks.

Frank Buch, coppersmith employed at the Pittsburg shops, has returned to his work after an illness.

J. S. Reynold, attorney for the Pullman company, was a passenger on the eastbound Pittsburg limited last night.

Charles Rippe has returned from Warsaw, where he was doing some work for the Bass company. Rippe is a boilermaker.

Manager D. B. Kehler, of the Fort Wayne Furniture company, went to Chicago yesterday to look after some business affairs.

Yesterday Conductor Mogford, of the Lake Shore road, was summoned to Detroit by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother.

J. W. Caswell, a clerk in the Bass foundry office, has resigned to go to Columbia City. Charles King will probably succeed Mr. Caswell.

Daniel Welker and Asa Roebuck, employes of Rhinesmith & Simonson, returned to their respective positions this morning. Both have been sick.

George Killen was taken with a severe attack of cramps in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning. He suffered greatly and had to be taken home in a hack.

Superintendent H. A. Worcester and Trainmaster F. L. Coty, of the Lake Shore, came down from Hillsdale yesterday and tarried a few hours with the local officials of the road.

General Freight Agent William Stewart and his assistant, C. L. Cole, of the Pennsylvania lines, were passengers on the Columbian express, bound for Chicago, this morning.

Mrs. George H. Judy, wife of the foreman of the Pittsburg blacksmith shop, and daughter, Miss Ella, left last night for Altoona Pa., where they will visit relatives and friends for a week or two.

Conductor John Sloan, who was taken with hemorrhage of the lungs at the Weber hotel one day last week, suffered another attack a day or two ago. He is now at his home in Crestline and is reported to be improving.

T. F. Whittelsey, superintendent of the Michigan division of the Lake Shore road, has tendered his resignation to take the general superintendency of the Ohio Central road. His successor on the Lake Shore has not yet been named.

Engine No. 152, hauling an east-bound freight train on the Pittsburg, went "dead" at Arcola and the engineer had to leave the train and bring the engine to this city to have it boiler cleaned. No. 152 belongs to the eastern division of the Pittsburg road.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company received a nice order yesterday from a brick manufacturing firm at Des Moines, Iowa. It was a contract for a 300 horse power Bass Improved Corliss engine, four tubular boilers, sixty inches in diameter and sixteen feet long, heaters, pumps, etc., making a complete modern steam plant.

Off duty list of Pittsburg trainmen: Engineer W. N. Border, attending a funeral; Fireman G. Huber, lame back; Firemen G. Spangler, father sick; Fireman N. Redley, sick; Fireman W. D. Rhodes, mother sick; Fireman D. W. Rhodes, wife sick. Those who reported for duty after an absence are Engineers J. Voirol, J. G. Carnan and J. A. Misner, Firemen W. Vanarsdale, D. S. Brown and C. Walters.

George Bradbury, general manager of the Lake Erie and Western, last week contracted with the Brooks locomotive works for ten heavy freight engines, mogul type, and 2,000 tons of steel rails, and will expend $100,000 this year in permanent improvements, such as widening waterways, filling trestles, etc.

The Rogers locomotive and machine works, after an existence of sixty years, has been reorganized as the Rogers Locomotive company. A curious coincidence is found in the death of George Hollingsworth, in his eighty seventh year, the day following the change. Mr. Hollingsworth was the oldest locomotive engineer in this country, and had been connected with these works from the first.

George Schmoll, assistant foreman of the Pittsburg machine shop, has a pretty sore face today, the result of a collision with a ball player yesterday about 1 o'clock. While Mr. Schmoll was riding his bicycle on Lafayette street a young man by the name of Pole, who was playing ball, ran against him, upsetting the machine and throwing Mr. Schmoll on the ground in such a manner as to loosen a couple teeth and severely bruise his cheek.

A survey is now being made for an air line railroad, which, it is said, will be built between Detroit and Toledo sometime this year. The new route will be called the Detroit and Toledo Short Line railroad. The object of the new road is to afford Detroit connections with the Pennsylvania and other roads which do not enter Detroit. Surveyors have been at work for the past week laying out the route and a charter will be applied for in a few days, probably this week.

AN IMPORTANT CASH REGISTER DEAL.

The National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, Absorbs the Cash Register Interests of the Kruse and Lamson Companies.

All Litigation Between These Companies Now at an End.

There was consummated in Boston yesterday a consolidation of the leading cash register companies of the country, by which the bitter warfare and expensive competition which has heretofore existed between them was brought to an end.

The companies directly interested are the National Cash Register company, of Dayton, Ohio; the Lamson Consolidated Store Service company, of Boston, and the Kruse Cash Register company, of New York.

Under the arrangement just effected the entire business of the Lamson and Kruse companies is transferred to the National company, while the store service apparatus business of the latter company is transferred to the Lamson company.

The cash register factories of the Lamson company at Lowell and New York will in time be changed to making car fare registers, and the Kruse factory in New York will cease to make cash registers. The cash register offices of said companies in the different cities will be consolidated, and the manufacture of the machines of all the companies will be carried on by the National company at Dayton, Ohio.

It is intended and expected that this consolidation of the conflicting interests, the termination of the expensive competition between them, the manufacture of all the machines by a single company, and the handling of them by a single set of salesmen and agents, will enable the National Cash Register company to conduct the business more economically, and consequently supply the increasing demand for low-priced cash registers.

Tea Culture in Florida.

A new idea about tea culture comes from Florida. As is well known, the best Chinese tea will not stand a sea voyage and never gets nearer to us than Russia. But Mrs. Increase Sumner of Starke, Bradford county, Florida, has discovered that this same delicious and delicate tea can be grown in her own garden. She has three crops a year, and owing to the rapid growth of the bushes she has to cut them down every three or four years, while in China the cutting is only necessary once in seven years.

Saved Himself.

The duchess of Lauraguais, who was somewhat given to making poetry, could not think of a word to rhyme with coffee. Turning to Talleyrand, who chanced to be by her side, she said: "Prince, give me a rhyme to coffee." "Impossible, duchess," replied Talleyrand, without a moment's delay; "for that which pertains to the head of a woman has neither rhyme nor reason."

You can be rid of Catarrh, if you'll take Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy. With the poisonous, irritating snuffs, strong caustic solutions, "creams," balms, and the like—you don't. They may, perhaps, help you for a time. But when Catarrh is driven from the head by such means, something else is sure to suffer. Usually, consumption of the lungs.

With Dr. Sage's Remedy, there's a perfect and permanent cure, by sensible methods. The worst chronic cases yield to its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties. Not only Catarrh itself, but Catarrhal Headache, Cold in the Head, all the troubles that may come from Catarrh or may come from it.

There's either a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad your case, or of how long standing,—or there's $500 in cash for you.

The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Remedy, in perfect good faith, agree and contract to give you one or the other.

There is a great row at Logansport over the governor's appointment of police commissioners. Two of the commissioners are stockholders in the Logansport Natural Gas company, just now at war with patrons, and two are employes of the Pan Handle railway company. It is claimed that these corporations will dominate. The gas company appointees are especially obnoxious because the city council, without regard to politics, is a unit in opposition to that company.

Mrs. Isaacs, an inmate of the Floyd county asylum, died. Her body was not called for by friends, and a demand was made for possession by an agent of the State Medical university. The authorities see no way of denying the claim, but are loath to give up the body because of the great prejudice in that county occasioned by grave robberies which have been committed in the name of medical colleges generally. The law gives relatives twenty days in which to claim a body.

HIGH-PRICED EXPERIENCE.

He Knew That the Modest Hat Was Bad, But Paid for His Learning.

Experience," said young Mr. Rusher, "is the teacher that I best like to pay."

That was several weeks ago.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Rusher went down town to buy a hat, says the Detroit Free Press. Like the dutiful little wife that she is, she went around to her husband's office and asked for an expression of his taste.

"Come," said he, "we'll look at some of the windows and I'll show you what I like."

By and by they stood where a sign announced that "Paris bonnets" and "London hats" were on sale. The young married pair looked over the display.

"I want a nice hat," said Mrs. Rusher, "but not an expensive one."

She pointed to a pretty thing with a profusion of red flowers and some rich looking trimming on it.

In her innermost soul she thought it a cheap-looking affair, but for the sake of economy she would forego a better one. In his innermost soul he thought it horribly extravagant and then he said:

"Don't you think, dear, that that is a trifle loud for one of your delicate senses and refined appearance?"

She murmured something of thanks.

"Yes," he went on, "I must say that I don't like a hat of that sort. Now, over there that big one with the plumes and one red rose—there's simplicity for you."

In his innermost heart he felt mean, for in reality the hat looked cheap to him. Mrs. Rusher only said:

"Very well, dear, your taste shall prevail."

And, so they parted. Mrs. Rusher bound for her milliner's, Mr. Rusher speedily and guilty headed for his office.

It was two weeks before he got the bill. In the meantime he had come to like the hat immensely. Mrs. Rusher seemed delighted with it. Then the young husband found a little letter awaiting him at the office. Here it is:

PARIS BONNETS

THE LOUVRE MILLINERS

To Mr. Legal Rusher, Dr.

To one hat. $28.82

"Those plumes, my dear," Mrs. Rusher explained, "are the best. That piece of felt is very fine and those flowers are imp—"

"Mrs. Rusher," the young man said, "what was the price of that other hat?"

"If you must know, Legal, dear," smiled the sweet little wife, "it was a hold over, marked down to $7.98."

In a little book that Mr. Legal Rusher keeps he has lately added this item:

"Experience in millinery, $28.82."

AN EVENTFUL VOYAGE.

Accidents to the Spanish Steamer N. S. de Loreto.

The Spanish steamer N. S. de Loreto, in her last voyage from Hongkong to Manila, met with a series of accidents. She left Hongkong having in tow a steam launch manned by ten men, under the direction of the chief officer and second engineer of the Loreto. On the second and third days the weather became very bad—so much so that on the third day the steam launch was in great peril, the mountainous seas threatening to engulf her, and the chance of her being saved was a very small one. The officer and the engineer of the launch were willing to stick to their duty, but the men were exhausted, and at daybreak on the fourth day assistance was asked from the Loreto. The captain ordered the steamer to be stopped, and had the launch brought alongside. Seven of the crew of the little craft took advantage of the first opportunity to scramble on board the steamer. A big wave then separated steamer and launch, but with the next chance the three remaining members of the latter's crew got on board the Loreto. After this it was deemed advisable to cut the towing line and abandon the launch which was sinking. Some difficulty was experienced in doing this, as, besides a thick hawser, there was a [illegible] wire rope to be severed, and three hatchets were destroyed before the job was finished. No sooner was the sinking launch got rid of than the discovery was made that the steamer was making water through a hole that the launch had made in her when she was being brought alongside. Every effort was then made to stop the hole by means of planks, cement, etc., and with considerable difficulty the task was at last accomplished. The Loreto was not yet at the end of her troubles for it was next found that about thirty fathoms of the towing line had got twisted around the propeller. This necessitated a few hours hard work, which of course was made all the harder by bad weather. Fortunately the steamer got to Manila without further accident.

Velvet of Consideration.

In China when it is desirable to get rid of some very influential official, it is done in a most polite manner. He only receives a neat parcel containing a silken cord, with an imperial dispatch setting forth that, in consequence of his great virtues and many services the emperor is graciously pleased to allow him to strangle or hang himself; and the recipient is thereupon supposed to write a careful answer, thanking his majesty for his consideration, and stating that the hint will be immediately taken.

The Weight of a Thought.

A wonderful story comes to us all the way from Rome—indeed, it is such a remarkable and dignified tale that I was just on the point of opening this "note" with the announcement that "a most extraordinary narrative had been wafted to us from the 'City of Seven Hills.'" A scientific journal of high repute is authority for the statement that Professor Masso, the Roman physiologist, has invented a machine that will actually give the weight of a thought. To quote from the account mentioned Professor Masso showed by experiment that the effect of thinking causes a rush of blood to the brain, this blood-rush varying in intensity according to the thought. He placed a man in the machine, which was so delicately balanced that the rush of blood turned the scale. The professor says that when the subject is sleeping, the thoughts or visions which come to him in his dreams are sufficient to cause the head to sink below the feet, and that the same takes place when the subject is disturbed by a slight sound. He further declares that the balance will indicate when a person is reading Italian and when Greek, the greater mental exertion required for Greek producing a more profuse rush of blood to the head.—St. Louis Republic.

Silk Sheets.

Silk sheets are an elegant caprice of women who find it difficult to spend their income. They are usually of plain white, and hemstitched with the monogram cipher along the hem. But sheets of pale pink and blue are also made with a delicate line of embroidery along the edge. The fancy is one which will probably be indulged only by the favored few and its reign, like that of silk lingerie, will be brief. Still, on July nights it might seem like sleeping on cool cloud billows to dream between the cool silken webs. If anything could make a July night worth living, such luxury is calculated to accomplish it.

Ely's Cream Balm is especially adapted as a remedy for catarrh, which is aggravated by alkaline dust and dry winds.—W. A. Hover, druggist, Denver.

I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to all sufferers from dry catarrh from personal experience.—Michael Herr, pharmacist, Denver.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured many cases of catarrh. It is in constant demand.—Geo. W. Hoyt, pharmacist, Cheyenne, Wy.

An Oversight.

The body of a man was taken from the water by a New York policeman. "Does anybody know anything about this man?" asked the policeman of some urchins who were present. "We seed him just as he came up for the last time, but we forgot ter ask him what his name was," said one of the boys.—Texas Siftings.

Have No Equal.

Allcock's Porous Plasters have attained a world-wide reputation solely upon their superlative merits. They have many would-be rivals, but have not been equalled or even approached in curative properties and rapidity and safety of action. Their value has been attested by the highest medical authorities as well as by unimpeachable testimonials from those who have used them, and they are recommended as the best external remedy for weak back, rheumatism, sciatica, colds, coughs, sore throat, chest and stomach affections, kidney difficulties, weak muscles, strains, stitches, and aches and pains of every description.

Beware of imitations, and do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

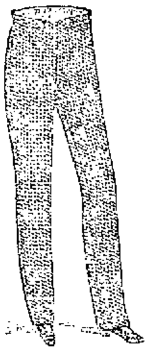
LAST WEEK OF THE GREAT SLAUGHTER SALE

At the Original Pete Stand, and as we desire to move as few goods as possible to our own store, we will make a GREAT EFFORT to dispose of hundreds of Men's, Boys' and Children's Suits and odd Pants the coming week.

HERE'S THE WAY WE PROPOSE TO DO IT.

MEN'S and BOYS' PANTS.



We've got some pants that we want to get rid of, and we haven't hesitated to use the knife freely in order to sell them off this coming week. About one hundred pairs of odd ones, one or two of a kind, and you won't have much trouble to be fitted, even if you have to have them altered slightly, it will pay you to buy them at the price. Come and see.

CONFIRMATION SUITS!

At Our Store, 38 Calhoun St.

We have never had such an elegant array of Dress Suits to show before. Corkscrews, Trecots, Diagonals and Cheviots, at $7, $8, $9.75, $11, $12 and $15.

SAM, PETE & MAX.

We Have 248 Men's Suits

In Sacks, Cutaways and Prince Alberts in light and dark colors. There are only one or two suits of a kind, but in the entire lot there is a full line of sizes from 33 to 44, so you are sure to be fitted if the pattern and style suits you.

These goods were sold by the Original Pete and other dealers at $12, $14, $15, $18, $20 and $22. For the coming week you can take your pick and choice of the entire lot for $7.85.

It's just like giving them away, but we don't want to move them if we can help it.

Sam, Pete & Max,

Boys Suits!

We have disposed of hundreds of Boys and Children's Suits to pleased parents during this sale and we now find that we have too many suits in ages 4, 5 and 6 years.

Bring your little ones with you this coming week and take your pick of $8, $7, $6 or $5 suits, ages 4, 5, and 6 years only, for $2.78.

Furnishing Goods.

All we have in Underwear, Hosiery, White Shirts, Gloves, Jersey Jackets, Rubber Coats, Etc., must be sold this week, and we're going to sell them at some price. Watch the papers for our "ad" from day to day. It will pay you.
